

Restraint & Injection Practice Quiz

1. Which of the following is shown here?

- a. Stretch Restraint
- b. Reclining Restraint
- c. Hugging Restraint
- d. Kneeling Restraint

2. Which of the following is shown here?

- a. Stretch Restraint
- b. Reclining Restraint
- c. Hugging Restraint
- d. Kneeling Restraint

3. Which of the following is shown in the third picture?

- a. Stretch Restraint
- b. Reclining Restraint
- c. Hugging Restraint
- d. Kneeling Restraint

4. Which of the following is shown on the bottom-right?

- a. Stretch Restraint
- b. Reclining Restraint
- c. Hugging Restraint
- d. Kneeling Restraint

5. When a cat is in pain, it will most likely...

- a. Meow
- b. Wince
- c. Purr
- d. Hide

6. Which of the following would be acceptable for a pet?

- a. Tylenol
- b. Advil
- c. A topical steroid
- d. None of the above; all human medication is harmful to pets

7. Which of the following is NOT a benefit of humane restraint?

- a. It protects you from being bitten or clawed while administering first aid
- b. It restricts your pet's movements to prevent further injury
- c. The restraint itself will heal the injury
- d. It keeps your pet in one place so that the injury can be examined and treated

8. Which of the following describes the appropriate way to muzzle a long-nosed dog?
 - a. Loop the material around the dogs mouth and tie behind the ears
 - b. Put the material in the dog's mouth and tie behind the years
 - c. Loop the material under the dog's nose and tie on top; loop down and tie on the bottom; then tie the material behind the dog's ears.
 - d. Wrap the material around the dog's snout several times; do not tie it.

9. What works as a muzzle for a short-nosed dog or a cat?
 - a. Any muzzle will work fine
 - b. A pillowcase, t-shirt, or fabric bag
 - c. A piece of cardboard
 - d. None; these animals should not be muzzled

10. A medium or large-sized dog should be examined where?
 - a. On the floor, so that they don't fall and injure themselves
 - b. On a table, so that your own weight doesn't crush them
 - c. Only in a veterinary clinic by a licensed veterinarian
 - d. On an alien spacecraft that spins and has green lights

11. A small dog or a cat should be examined where?
 - a. On the floor, so that they don't fall and injure themselves
 - b. On a table, so that your own weight doesn't crush them
 - c. Only in a veterinary clinic by a licensed veterinarian
 - d. On an alien spacecraft that spins and has green lights

12. To withdraw the needed amount of fluid into a syringe without mixing air into the fluid, you must first...
 - a. Inject the same amount of air into the bottle of fluid
 - b. Sterilize the injection site
 - c. Push the plunger all the way in to remove all air from the syringe
 - d. Keep the bevel of the needle halfway out of the rubber stopper while removing the medicine

13. Immediately after injecting medication into a patient, you should...
 - a. Congratulate them on their bravery
 - b. Clip or shave the injection site
 - c. Disinfect the injection site
 - d. Hold your finger over the injection site to prevent leakage of the medicine

14. An intradermal injection would require you to inject medication...
 - a. Into the muscle
 - b. Beneath the skin
 - c. Into a vein
 - d. Between layers of the skin.

15. An intravenous injection would require you to inject medication...
 - a. Into the muscle
 - b. Beneath the skin
 - c. Into a vein
 - d. Between layers of the skin.

16. A subcutaneous injection would require you to inject medication...
 - a. Into the muscle
 - b. Beneath the skin
 - c. Into a vein
 - d. Between layers of the skin.